Punctuation

- Quotes
 - Author's Name in Text
 - Quote from Source
- Quotes within Quotes
- Sources Already Cited
- Later Reference
- Footnotes or Endnotes

Quotes

References in text are numbered in the order they appear in the text. The citation is indicated by a superscript Arabic numeral:

Author's Name in Text

Example:

This point has already been argued by Moulthrop ¹

Quote from Source

If you quote directly from a passage in an article or a book, etc., then the part quoted should be put in quotation marks: "", and acknowledged in a footnote; you should also indent the quote.

Example:

"The Gay and Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation, the Human Rights Campaign (HRC), the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force (NGLTF), and Parents, Families and Friends of Lesbians and Gays, along with an assortment of religious, ethnic, feminist and civil rights groups, have all pursued hate crimes legislation."²

Quotes within Quotes

If in reading you find that the author of a book or article, for example, has quoted the work of someone such as another author, as often happens, and you would like to use that quote, but the Library does not have the primary source from which it was taken, then you can quote it, but put it in two sets of quotation marks: "" ". The two sets of quotation marks: double quotation marks followed by single quotation marks (or vice versa), indicates you are quoting a quote. In footing this, you should give the primary reference for the quote, and then say that it was quoted by whoever in the relevant journal or book.

Example:

R. Williams, The Long Revolution (1975), quoted in D. Spencer, Man Made Language (1985), 45

In the bibliography list you should mention both books separately.

Sources Already Cited

Using 'ibid'

This is an abbreviation of 'ibidem' which means 'in the same place', and directs the reader to back to the immediately preceding footnote. If it is exactly the same reference, including an identical page or pinpoint reference, then a simple 'ibid' is all that is necessary in the next footnote. If it is the same reference but with a different page number, write 'ibid' followed by the new pinpoint reference. For example:

Example:

12. Michael Brogan and David Spencer, Surviving Law School (2004) 240.
13. Ibid.
14. Ibid 243. (where 243 indicates the page number)

Using 'supra'

Use this when you have already listed a full reference earlier in your footnotes, but where other footnotes have intervened so you can't use 'ibid'. You can use 'supra n' (where n refers to a previous footnote number) and a different page number:

Example:

16. Bryan Garner, The Elements of Legal Style (2nd Ed, 2002) 40.
17. Michael Brogan and David Spencer, Surviving Law School (2004) 240.
18. Garner, supra n 16, 42.

(where 16 indicates the number of the footnote listed earlier and 42 indicates the page number)

Later Reference

Using 'infra'

Anticipatory references to a work that will eventually be cited in full use "infra" (meaning "below" or "within").

Example:

4. K. Ishiyama, "Japanese Estate Taxes" (1996), Japan Law Review 14-93, at 52. See also Matthews, infra footnote 6.
5. C.L. Gold, "Transfer Taxes," in Donnelly and Donnelly, supra footnote 1, 224-309, at 300.
6. Donald Matthews, "Estate Law and the Internet," The Globe and Mail, January 14, 1996.

Footnotes or Endnotes

Footnotes appear at the bottom of the page where the noted source is cited. Endnotes appear at the end of the paper in the order that the citations appeared. Both endnotes and footnotes are numbered to correspond to the citation number, followed by a period and one space.

Preparing the Bibliography

Typically, the notes in Chicago-style papers are followed by a bibliography, an alphabetically arranged list of all the works cited or consulted. Center the title Bibliography about one inch from the top of the page. Number bibliography pages consecutively with the rest of the paper.

All sources should be cited in the following order:

1. Primary sources (statutes, treaties, and etc.);
2. Books;
3. Articles and Newspapers;
4. Web sources, CD's, and etc.

Alphabetizing the List

Alphabetize the bibliography by the last names of the authors (or editors); when a work has no author or editor, alphabetize it by the first word of the title other than A, An, or The.

If your list includes two or more works by the same author, use three hyphens instead of the author's name in all entries after the first. You may arrange the entries alphabetically by title or by date; be consistent throughout the bibliography.

Indenting and Line Spacing

Begin each entry at the left margin, and indent any additional lines one-half inch (or five spaces). Single-space each entry and double-space between entries (unless your instructor prefers double-spacing throughout).

Indirect citations - citations from a secondary source

These occur when you choose to cite the work of an author using a reference/citation made by another author i.e. you do not examine the original work. Details of both the original and secondary source must be listed.

Example:

Secondary sources cited in your notes

1. Sheila Allen, "Some Theoretical Problems in the Study of Youth," Sociological Review 16, no. 3 (1968): 1, quoted in Johanna Wyn and Rob White, Rethinking Youth (St Leonards, N.S.W.: Allen & Unwin, 1997), 8.

Bibliography

Allen, Sheila. "Some Theoretical Problems in the Study of Youth." Sociological Review 16, no. 3 (1968): 1. Quoted in Johanna Wyn and Rob White. Rethinking Youth. St Leonards N.S.W. : Allen & Unwin, 1997, 8.

Works by the same first authors, published in the same year

Single author entries come first in the bibliography

Example:

Robbins, Stephen. P. Organizational Behaviour. 11th ed. Upper Saddle River, N.J. : Prentice Hall, 2004.

Robbins, Stephen P. and David A. DeCenzo. Fundamentals of Management: Essential Concepts and Applications. 5th ed. Upper Saddle River, N.J. : Prentice Hall, 2004.

Works by the same author, published in the same year

In your bibliography, order these works alphabetically according to the title of the work. Ignore any initial "The", "A" or "An" in the title. A dash replaces the repeated author name

Example:

Blainey, Geoffrey. Black Kettle and Full Moon: Daily Life in a Vanished Australia. Camberwell, Victoria: Penguin/Viking, 2003.

----. The Rush the Never Ended: A History of Australian Mining. 5th ed. Carlton, Victoria: Melbourne University Press, 2003.

Citing more than one author at one point in the text

Several citations can be included in a single footnote, separated by a semi-colon.

Example:

Multiple references cited in your notes

1. Zygmunt Bauman, Globalization and Culture (Oxford: Polity Press, 1999), 6; John Tomlinson Globalization: The Human Consequences (London: Routledge, 1999), 11.

Multiple references cited in your bibliography (Create separate entries).

Bauman, Zygmunt. Globalization and Culture. Oxford: Polity Press, 1999.

Tomlinson, John. Globalization: The Human Consequences. London: Routledge, 1999.

Electronic books

Elements of the citation: First reference

Author Name Surname and Author Name Surname, Title of Book - in italics (Place of publication: Name of Publisher, Year of publication), URL (date of access).

Subsequent reference

Author Surname and Author Surname, Title of Book - in italics and shortened if more than 4 words.

Bibliography

Author Surname, Author Name and Author Name Surname. Title of Book - in italics. Place of publication: Name of Publisher, Year of publication. URL (date of access)

Example:

First reference

1. Philip B. Kurland and Ralph Lerner, The Founders' Constitution (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1987), <<http://press-pubs.uchicago.edu/founders/>> (accessed June 27, 2006).

Book chapters

- A chapter in a book
- A chapter in an edited book

A chapter in a book

Elements of the citation: First reference

Author Name Surname and Author Name Surname, "Title of Chapter," in Title of Book - in italics (Place of publication: Name of Publisher, Year of publication), page number.

Subsequent reference

Author Surname and Author Surname, "Title of Chapter - shortened," page number.

Bibliography

Author Surname, Author name and Author Name Surname. "Title of Chapter." In Title of Book - in italics. Place of publication: Name of Publisher, Year of publication.

Example:

First reference

1. Johanna Wyn and Rob White, "The Concept of Youth," in Rethinking Youth (Sydney: Allen and Unwin, 1997), 11.

Subsequent reference

4. Wyn and White, "The Concept of Youth," 17.

Articles by the same first author

Single author entries come first in the bibliography

Example:

Bessant, Judith. "The Question of Public Trust and the Schooling System." Australian Journal of Education 45, no. 2 (2001): 207-226.

Bessant, Judith and Ruth Webber. "Policy and the Youth Sector: Youth Peaks and Why We Need Them." Youth Studies Australia 20, no. 1 (2001): 43-47.

Articles by the same author

Titles by the same author are normally listed alphabetically

Example:

Scutt, Jocelynn A. "Future Access - Discrimination and the Disability Discrimination Act," Access 5, no.3 (2003): 6-10.

Scutt, Jocelynn A. "Without Precedent: Sex/gender Discrimination in the High Court." Alternative Law Journal 28, no. 2 (2003): 74-77.

Newspaper articles

- Author known
- Unsigned articles
- Newspaper article accessed from a database - format not identical to original

Author known

Elements of the citation: First reference

Author Name Surname, "Title of Article," Newspaper name - in italics (City of publication), Month day, Year of publication, edition number.

Bibliography

Author Surname, Name. "Title of Article." Newspaper name - in italics (City of publication), Month day, Year of publication, edition number.

Example:

First reference

1. Stephen Cauchi, "World's Green Markers on the Brink," Age (Melbourne), October 16, 2004, first edition.

Subsequent reference

4. Cauchi, "World's Green Markers".

Note: Because there may be several editions of the paper on one day, with items moved or eliminated, page numbers are best omitted. Adding the name of the newspaper section, and the edition, may be useful.

Bibliography

Cauchi, Stephen. "World's Green Markers on the Brink." Age (Melbourne), October 16, 2004, first edition.

Notes: An initial "The" in the newspaper title is omitted. Unless it is obvious from the newspaper name, the city of publication should be added, in brackets, after the newspaper title, e.g. Age (Melbourne).

Unsigned articles

Unsigned articles can be cited directly in the text, (in brackets), or cited briefly in a note. They are not normally included in the bibliography.

Example:

5. Courier Mail (Brisbane), December 3, 2004.

Newspaper article accessed from a database - format not identical to original

Include the URL of the main entrance of the database service, as well as edition and section details.

Example:

6. Henry Gee, "A Breed Apart," Age (Melbourne), October 29, 2004, first edition, A3.
<<http://global.factiva.com>> (accessed 2 June 2001).

Bibliography

<<http://global.factiva.com>> (accessed 2 June 2001).

Statutes or Laws

- Public laws
- Statutes at Large

Statutes are published in several different sources, and the particular source must be specified. Statutes may be included in the bibliography, but they are often cited only in notes. Be consistent.

Public laws

Statutes are first published separately, being referred to as slip laws or public laws.

Example:

First Reference. Include page reference(s) if appropriate.

35. Border Smog Reduction Act of 1998, Public Law 286, 105th Cong., 1st sess., (27 October 1998), 3.

Bibliography

Border Smog Reduction Act of 1998. Public Law 286. 105th Cong., 1st sess., 27 October 1998.

Statutes at Large

After individual publication, laws are collected in bound volumes entitled United States Statutes at Large.

Example:

First Reference. Include specific page reference(s) if appropriate.

48. Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988, U.S. Statutes at Large 102 (1989): 4194, 4227.

Bibliography

Bibliography

Byas, Anna. "Family Law: Old Shadows and New Directions." Paper presented to the 8th Australian Institute of Family Studies Conference, Melbourne, February 12-14, 2003.

Encyclopedia and dictionaries

References to well-known encyclopedia and dictionaries are normally cited in notes, and not in the bibliography.

- Omit the details of publication, but specify the edition, if it is not the first.
- References to an alphabetically arranged work do not cite the volume or page number. Instead they cite the item, preceded by s.v. (Latin = "under the word").

Example in footnote:

1. Encyclopedia Britannica, 15th ed. , s.v. "Salvation."

Other reference works may be listed with their publication details

Example in footnote:
